

Portobello joins the Innermost collection

Simultaneously familiar and new, Portobello is an aesthetic that fits anywhere. Strong gloss colours and the ability to easily customise add value to a form that is simplicity itself.

Designed by Assemblyroom, Portobello joins the Innermost range of beautifully unique lighting of the absolute highest quality. Constructed from hand spun aluminium, it draws inspiration from the simplicity and functionality of industrial pendant lights of a bygone era.

Available in a range of strong gloss colours, Portobello joins the Innermost collection.

With its scale, defined outline and its two tone colour scheme (coloured exterior, white interior) this large contemporary classic pendant light will have an impact on any room.

Available in yellow, black, white and red with clear PVC cable, and white interior.

Assemblyroom

Founded by Peter and Cathy Wall in 2003, Assemblyroom is a London based design practice with a strong reputation for creativity in both commercial interior and furniture design.

Having established Assemblyroom and undertaken a wide and diverse range of interior projects, the pair went on to develop their interest in small batch production, where their enthusiasm for form, function and materials led to the creation of a range of quality pieces that combine simplicity and elegance with colour and a sense of playfulness. The Assemblyroom collection reflects a timeless quality and an understated familiarity, and this is evident in the Portobello pendant light.

About Innermost

Innermost is a British design brand with a rebellious approach to lighting and furniture. Founded in London and working with designers from all over the world, Steve Jones and Russell Cameron aimed to create an innovative and diverse brand, making products of the absolute highest quality. Since 1999 the company has followed its initial philosophy, to be 'as British as London itself': a unique mixture of classic English tradition and vibrant global diversity.
